VOLUME CIX.--NO. 20. ALEXANDRIA, VA., THURSDAY EVENING, JANUARY 23, 1908. PRICE 2 CENTS

A Bold Step.

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published broadcast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines. Thus he has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits, and made them Remedies of Known Composition.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the fullest scrutiny.

Not only does the Wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, torpid liver or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it, in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same. From this little book it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral agents or other poisonous or injurious agents and that they are made from native, medicinal roots of great value; also that some of the most valuable ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, nervous, over-worked, "run-down," nervous and debilitated women, were employed, long years ago, by the Indians for similar ailments affecting their squaws. In fact, one of the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was known to the Indians as "Squaw-Weed." Our knowledge of the uses of not a few of our most valuable native medicinal plants was gained from the Indians.

As made up by improved and exact processes, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

PARKER ANSWERS BRYAN.

Ex-Chief Judge Alton B. Parker, of the New York Court of Appeals, who was the democratic candidate in 1904 for President of the United States, was in Albany yesterday in attendance upon the court. His attention was called to an extract from the speech of William J. Bryan before the demoaratic members of the Kentucky legislature Tuesday, in which Mr. Bryan was quoted as saying that in 1904 he "took his medicine in Parker. Parker was the man above all other I did not want."

"What a pity," said Judge Parker, "that Mr. Bryan failed to be equally frank in 1903. Had he done so the situation of the party would be vastly better than it is. There were but few democrats in that year who thought it wise to have a third term candidate. But every man of sense knew that unless a man could be found who would receive Mr. Bryan's support, his warm personal following would seek revenge for the defeats of 1896 and 1900.

"So statesmen, politicians, and interested citizens sought diligently to find some one that he would support. To some at least he said he would bolt ex-President Cleveland, Gov. Hill, Senator Gorman, and Judge Gray, but that it would be hard to oppose Parker, as Parker had supported him.

"This attitude induced the impression among many that my nomination would be as acceptable to Mr. Bryan as any except his own. That impression led to pressure upon me from many quarters to change my plans for life. And it contributed in no small measure to the movement which led to the control of the convention.

"Subsequent events showed that Mr. Bryan had not been entirely open with those who had consulted him. For when, to his surprise, delegates began to be elected favorable to my nomination, when indeed the tide had grown too strong to be breasted, he started out on his famous tour of denunciation. The dragons' teeth which he then sowed yielded an abundant harvest—aye, all that he could wish.

"But it would have been very much better for the party had he said in 1903, before sentiment had crystallized as he says now: 'Parker is the man above all others that I do not want.'"

MURDERED BY A WOMAN.

The murder of Frank P. Brady by Mrs. May Robert Clark in R. H. Macy & Co's., department store in New York yesterday was described in a telegraphic dispatch in the Gazette. After killing Brady the woman committed suicide by shooting herself.

There is evidence discovered that Mrs. Clark planned at least two years ago to kill Brady, who had parted from her at that time, and that in the last few months he had lived in constant terror. She was 10 years older than he, and the mother of a 7-year-old boy.

Before leaving her house Mrs. Clarke wrote an account of her acquaintance with the man she was about to kill.

Brady had been attacked and beaten by the woman several times near his place of business.

Money had been paid Mrs. Clark with the understanding that she cease annoying Brady. Receipts for this were found in Mrs. Clark's papers. His friends said Brady had tried to buy off the woman because he did not want trouble with her.

Three sheets of paper on which Mrs. Clark had written in a firm hand the events which, she said, had led up her determination to kill Brady, were found in her trunk. They read:

"I first met Frank Brady five years ago. To please him I left my husband. After two years his love cooled and in the last three years he has steadily refused to come back to me. He knows I have sworn to kill him, but even this has not made him come back. All I have asked from him is that he will be upon friendly terms with me. I gave up everything for him and I now have to punish him for the way he has treated me."

Since separating from her husband Mrs. Clark had supported heaself as a manicurist.

Brady was 30 years old, and the sole support of a helpless, aged mother, for whom he had made a home.

VON BUELOW HISSED.

Chancellor von Buelow was hissed, jeered, and hooted in the German Reichstag yesterday, upon his refusal to answer a socialist interpellation on the Prussian suffrage. Amid the tumult and uproar that followed a conservative member was stigmatized as a "miserable rascal," "vulgar vagabond," and "police spy."

In view of the street disorders of Tuesday the buildings of parliament were surrounded from early morning with a strong force of police armed with pistols and sabers.

Prince von Buelow warned against further manifestation, which, he declared, did not affect the goverment in the slightest degree. He threatened, amid ironical cheering from the socilists, that the leaders and organizers of all demonstrations would be dealt with severely.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JAN. 22, 1908.

In a forcible article in favor of the execution of condemned criminals in the State penitentiary, instead of the county jails, the Richmond Times Dispatch says:

Local hangings are barbaric and should be abolished. The crime for which a condemned person dies is committed against the State, and his execution should be a State and not a local affair. At Alexandria last week a colored man was to have died for an alleged murder. The Governor granted a respite until February 14th, and the press dispatches said that before that action was taken the condemned man was taken to a nearby county jail for safe keeping. If this course was necessary to protect the man from violence, it was proof of a lawless disposition upon the part of that usually staid old city. If it was not necessary, it was an unjust reflection upon its people. Both horns of the dilemma could have been avoided if the man, upon conviction, had been removed to the penitentiary, where he might have received a pardon, a commutation of sentence or a respite without the dread of throwing a whole city into a paroxysm of lawless violence. It seems that the community is divided upon the guilt or innocence of this man. The local paper protests against the execution. A number of the jurors who convicted him petitioned the Governor for a commutation of sentence. Should the execution occur at the expiration of the respite, will St. Valentine's Day be a bright and happy one for the people of Alexandria, or will it be a day made dark by the shadow of the gallows and by the oppressive thought of its ghastly work?

It was for the very reason assigned by the Times Dispatch; i. e., that the removal of the prisoner to another county was an unjust reflection upon the people of this city, that the Gazette criticised such action. The bringing of a military company here from another city to guard the prisoner during his trial was a mistake as was the sending of the man to another county after his reprieve.

Out of the executive session of the U. S. Senate leaks an incident tending to illustrate President Roosevelt's peculiar regard for the constitution in the matter of appointment to office. According to the account of Senator Taliaferro, the President nominated last winter a postmaster for Pensacola, Florida. On March 2 last his nomination was rejected by the Senate. But he has permitted his rejected postmaster to remain to this day in quiet possession of his office. This is denounced as a flagrant violation of constitutional provisions, laws and precedents, not to mention the wounded dignity of the Senate. Senator Taliaferro has presented in executive session complete data concerning this alleged executive usurpation, and has asked the reason for the retention in office of the rejected postmaster, but so far no satisfactory answer has been made.

The New York life insurance companies are paying the penalty of the recent exposure of their mismanagement. The report of the Superintendent of the State Insurance Department shows that there has been a falling off in new business to the extent of $692,000,000, and an actual decrease in insurance in force since 1904 of $53,000,000. This showing is made more discouraging by comparison with the business of companies in other States showing a decrease in the volume of business to the extent of $81,000,000, but an increase of insurance in force of $874,000,000. Speculating with the money of policy-holders, says the Philadelphia Record, was a gay pastime while the game lasted, but the forfeiture of public confidence as a result of exposure has proved terribly damaging.

There is not much mystery about what is the matter with the army, and if the same question be asked about the navy the same answer will suffice. The Army and Navy Register describes the President's letter about Admiral Brownson as "brutal" and says: "As much, if not more, could have been accomplished for all purposes of discipline by less strident, less hysterical and less defamatory references to an individual." It is this sort of thing which has contributed to discouragement of the personnel of both the army and navy." In a few years Mr. Roosevelt would have the whole public service, civil and military, made up of his personal favorites.

From Washington.

Washington, D. C., January 23.

The President is preparing his special message to Congress on the employers liability measure which he hopes to see passed by the present session of Congress. Attorney General Bonaparte and Senator Knox who was Mr. Bonaparte's predecessor in office and has introduced the bill which the President is supposed to favor, were both in conference with the President on the matter today. Senator LaFollette has introduced another employers' liability bill, but it is understood, his measure does not as nearly represent the President's ideas on the subject as that of the former Attorney General.

Politicians of both partiesare waiting with anxiety to learn President Roosevelt's attitude toward the Hughes boom, now that the governor has come into the open. If the President goes gunning for Hughes, he may succeed in bagging the game but if he does so, he may cause such a split in the party, that the democratic candidate may win at the election. On the other hand, if the President takes no part in the hunt the governor may pot Secretary Taft and with him the President's ambition to name his own successor. That the President fully realizes the pitfalls which threaten his course, is evident by the extreme caution he is now displaying. He is feeling every step before setting his feet firmly upon the ground, and the little coterie of New York republican congressmen who have been in the habit of running to the White House for comfort and guidance, have, for the last forty-eight hours, been in great distress. They have not been able to determine where they stand. If they declare against the governor, their people at home may swat them, and if they align themselves boldly with Hughes, the President may whack them with the big stick. From the fact that the President has not given out any tips to the crowd, it is believed that he is waiting to see just what sort of a platform the governor will build for himself on the 31st when he has promised to declare his principles before the New York Republican Club. If he should take a few planks from the Presinent's own structure and pledge himself to follow up the important Roosevelt crusades, the situation would be further complicated, and the administration further embarrassed. In that event, the President would have very little excuse for "butting in." In spite of the fact that the Hughes announcement seems to have strength from the field, and especially from Taft, all the boomers of "favorite sons," declare they are glad it was made. "It is just what we were hoping for," they are saying. 'Now we know where Hughes stand." The Taft followers, even more than the others, say they can fight better with an adversary in the open than one who is concealed in the canebrake.

A special Cabinet meeting was held today at which were present Secretaries Taft, Root, Meyer, Metcalf, Straus and Garfield. It is understood that the subject discussed was the charge that the President has been making federal appointments for political purposes. Each member of the Cabinet had been requested to bring with him a list of appointments made since the beginning of the present session of Congress. It was announced after the meeting that the President would prepare a statement on the subject to be made public later. Secretary Taft was the only member of the Cabinet who would discuss the matter for publication. He said, with a laugh: "I suppose the appointments in my department have been very political, indeed. Army officers have so much influence in presidential elections. Then I have made two appointments in the Philippines---one a democrat and the other a Filipino. You can see how significant they are."

Retirements of seven officers of the army who were physically unable to take the test in skilled horsemanship as directed by the President last fall, were announced by the Secretary of War today as follows: Colonel J. M. Marshall, Major Zebulen B. Vance, Major George Palmer, Major H. H. Benham, Major P. M. Travis, Major H. M. Hallock and Chaplain Patrick J. Hart. These retirements were decided upon at a conference between the President and Secretary Taft at the White House Tuesday night. Further consideration will be given the cases of Lieut. Cols. W. W. Robinson and O. M. Lissak.

Secretary Shaw of the Treasury Department, had a short talk with the President today and when he left the Executive Office said he was unable to confirm or deny even half the rumors that have been told about his future.

The U. S. Supreme Court today denied the application for a review of the Chicago Street Railway cases.

Among the last things done by the National Board of Trade before adjourning its annual convention today was the adoption of a resolution approving the principles of the Beveridge bill for a permanent tariff commission, and calling for tariff revision as soon as expedient. Philadelphia delegates fought the resolution, but New York and New England had sufficient strength to pull it through. Approval was also given to the postal savings banks as proposed by Postmaster-General Meyer.

THE R., F. & P. R. R.

The hearing of the proposition to repeal the statute forbidding the paralleling of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad was not concluded after a morning, afternoon, and night session of a joint committee of the State legislature yesterday. It is probable that another entire day will be consumed in the hearing.

The most noteworthy feature of the day was a substitute to both parallel bills now before the house by Senator Lassiter, of Petersburg. The substitute provides that no railroad shall be allowed to parallel the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad prior to January 1, 1913, and that if prior to that time the said railroad shall have built such branch lines as may be neccessary in the opinion of the State corporation commission for the reasonable and proper service of the people of the State, and shall also surrender prior to January 1, 1909, its right to exemption to taxation, then no other railroad chartered under this act shall have any right to build a parallel line, unless the existing act is repealed by the general assembly.

While the sentiment of the people generally is probably heartily in favor of the repeal, it is believed that after the hearing the committee will recommend some measure providing restrictions to the straight repeal.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Senator Hansbrough precipitated a lively debate in the Senate yesterday by offering a resolution that was defeated, directing the Department of Commerce and Labor to cease its investigation of the harvester trust, for the reason that the Department of Justice has just concluded a like inquiry and is ready to proceed in the courts.

In executive session the message of the President relating to the new German trade arrangement was discussed and the President criticised for making it.

The greater part of the afternoon was spent in considering the penal code bill.

The House continued consideration of the bill codifying the penal statutes of the United States.

Representative Tawney, chairman of the committee on appropriations, reported the urgent deficiency bill, and gave notice that he would call it up for discussion at today's session. The bill carries $24,174,450,

"REBEL YELL" IN NEW YORK.

Senator Daniel, of Virginia; Gen. Stewart L. Woodford, and R. E. Lee, grandson of the Confederate commander, were the guests of honor last night at the annual banquet of the Confederate Veteran Camp of New York in the grand ball-room of the Waldorf-Astoria. Maj. Edward Owen, the commander of the camp, was the toastmaster, and the three guests were the only speakers.

The wall in the rear of the guests' table was covered with United States and Confederate flags, and the orchestra played Southern airs. Every time "Dixie" was played the men guests howled themselves hoarse and the ladies waved handkerchiefs. After the dinner the tables were removed and dancing was had.

Introducing Senator Daniel, Maj. Owen said that if the democratic party knew what it was about it would nominate the Senator for the presidency.

Senator Daniel said that "We may know what we are, but not what we might be." The last thing he expected was to hear Maj. Owen, here in the heart of Yankeedom, nominate for president a comrade of the Stonewall Brigade. He was speaking to the toast, "Lee, Virginia, and the Union." The three had been much mixed up, but now, thank, God, they were all untangled. It was a glorious thing that those who had fought one another might meet in the mightiest city of the mightiest country and say with equal pride that they were Americans. Of Gen. Lee, he said that one of the greatest compliments ever paid him was by Gen. Meade at Appomattox. The two had been friends in the war with Mexico, and when they met at the surrender, Gen. Lee remarked to Gen. Meade, "You are getting gray."

"Yes, but not from years," replied Gen. Meade. "You are the man who has made me gray."

It was too late to argue about the cause of the war. No great revelation was ever called on to explain itself. "But," said Senator Daniel, "if I did not fight for the union I had a son in the United States army at Matonzas. The good thing about the civil war was that it is over. The younger generation could thank the veterans that they had left them a clear arena."

Mr. Lee was the next speaker, and though he told his hearers that as an after-dinner speaker he was the rankest of the rank, he was applauded. He had not even been in the Confederate army, because he wasn't born until after peace had been declared.

Gen. Woodford said that in New York men who wore the blue and the gray worked for the common good.

THAW'S MOTHER ON STAND.

Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, the mother of Harry K. Thaw, went on the stand again in New York yesterday and told what she knew of insanity in the Thaw family, and of the actions of her son from the time of his birth. She was feeble and had to be assisted to the witness stand by a nurse.

She said that thirteen months before Harry was born she sustained a great shock when she found an older child dead in bed. She was not in good health before Harry's birth, and he was an excitable and nervous child. She told of him having St. Vitus' dance.

As to the insanity taint in the family, she said that Henry Copley, an uncle of Thaw, had been weak-minded from the time he was six years old. Another relative, Josiah Thaw, had brain fever, and her sister, a Mrs. Hirsch, had been an epileptic from her early days.

There was no cross-examination of Mrs. Thaw by the district attorney. By an agreement with the counsel for Thaw all he did was to read to the jury an affidavit made by Mrs. Thaw and presented to the commission in lunacy at the last trial. In that affidavit she tried to explain away any taint of hereditary insanity in the Thaw family. The affidavit did not jibe with the testimony she gave yesterday.

New York Stock Market.

The market this morning followed London's lead to a great extent, showing some gains at opening and in early trading. At the end of the hour the tone was heavy and nearly everything traded in showed some loss from yesterday's closing.

NO ACCIDENTS IN NATURE.

Every Calamity, No Matter How Great, Has a Definite Beginning.

There are no accidents in nature.

The avalanche that without a moment's warning rushes headlong down the mountain side is not an accident.

For years previous tiny atoms have been crystalizing, and adding their minute weight to the mass which left its base when the accumulation reached a certain point.

Neither is baldness an accident. The infinitesimally small germ which is the cause of Dandruff and baldness, feeds silently and long before the result is seen.

The small germs which thrive on the scalp and which are the cause of Baldness and Dandruff cannot exist, however, when Newbro's Herpicide is applied.

The Legislature.

The governor yesterday sent a communication to the general assembly reciting the fact that the government wants to acquire thirty-one acres of land in Mill Creek, between Hampton and Old Point, for the purpose of enlarging the fort at the place. The attorney general prepared a bill which meets the requirements. The bill went to the finance committee.

SENATE.

Mr. King offered a bill to provide pensions for public school teachers in Virginia.

The Senate defeated the House resolution requiring the judges of the Court of Appeals to wear gowns while on the bench.

Mr. Wickham introduced a bill which provides for the deposit of county funds and county school funds on annual settlements of county treasurers with boards of supervisors and school boards to provide bonded repositries to receive the same and to prescribe a penalty for failure of county treasurers to comply with the provisions of this act.

Mr. Parks introduced a bill which permits the auditor of public accounts and the supervisors of counties to refund taxes which have been twice assessed and collected.

Mr. Parks also introduced a bill providing for the establishment of a State female normal school at Front Royal.

HOUSE

The House committee on courts of justice yesterday reported favorably on a bill to legalize the introduction of certain evidence in prosecutions for felonious homicide and assaults with felonious intent.

The following bills, on their third reading, were passed.

To amend an act to declare the effect of the death of the drawer of a check, approved March 10, 1906.

To amend the code in regard to the disturbances of religious worship, and how the same shall be punished.

To re-enact section 2850 of the code and to declare of what peotest is evidence.

To amend section 3138 of the code, relating to the method whereby any citizen residing in this State my change his name, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof.

The House committee on courts of justice has favorably reported the bill introduced early in the session by Mr. Bell, providing that in cases involving the "unwritten law" when there is a report or charge of assault and when vengeance has been visited on the offender, the State be permitted to introduce medical and scientific evidence to establish or disapprove such alleged assaults.

REDUCTION IN SALARIES.

A dispatch from Richmond says that though no official announcement has been made, it is said that the Southern Railway will make a 10 per cent. cut in salaries on February 1, in addition to the scaling of salaries paid to the executive officers and department clerks. In this latter class about 2,000 employes will be affected.

The reduction, it is said, will apply to every office employe of the system, including officials of the road, who are now receiving more than $50 a month. It will affect all clerks, stenographers, passenger and freight agents, clear up through the official heads of these various departments. There is no indication, however, as to whether or not any reduction has been ordered in the pay of employes of the operating department, such as engineers, firemen, switchmen and the like.

Men in the local service are naturally anxious to know if the reports are true, but they have been unable to secure confirmation or denial. They would not be surprised to see a sweeping reduction ordered, as expenses are being cut generally all over the system.

FOR VIRGINIA CHURCHES.

Senator Martin yesterday offered in the Senate a number of bills proposing to carry out the findings of the Court of Claims in the cases of several Virginia churches claiming damages from the federal government for injuries sustained from northern troops during the civil war. The churches affected by the bills are as follows:

Salem Baptist, Clarke county; Presbyterian, Lovettsville; St. Paul's Reformed, Woodstock; Lutheran, Toms Brook; Presbyterian, Strasburg; St. Thomas' Episcopal, Middletown; Methodist Episcopal, Middletown; Mount Zion United Brethren, Frederick county; Muhlenberg Evangelical Lutheran, Harrisonburg; Mount Zion Methodist Episcopal, colored, Middletown.

He also offered a bill proposing to carry out the decision of the Court of Claims in the case of the Preston Lodge af Masons, of Jonesville.

JUDGE RHEA.

Judge William F. Rhea, of Bristol, will appear in person in Richmond today before the joint committee of the house and senate and may reply to the charges that have been or may be filed against him. Judge Rhea will also answer the statements of Senator Noell, of Lee, made in the secret session of the two bodies yesterday. Judge Rhea will go to Richmond armed with the records of the men who are opposing him.

The Bar Association of Bristol, at a largely attended meeting yesterday, presided over by Judge Phlegar, in view of the charge made against Judge Wm. F. Rhea by State Senator Noell, passed resolutions defending and praising the character of Judge Rhea as citizen, lawyer, and public man, and condemning the course of Senator Noell.

The Thaw Trial.

New York, Jan. 23.—Dr. Charles L. Bailey, of Albany, N. Y., was the first witness called in the Thaw trial today.

Dr. Charles G. Wagner was subsequently called and Littleton examined him at length as to Thaw's mental condition. The witness believed Thaw to be irresponsible. Thaw told Dr. Wagner he had never intended attacking White, but that Providence took the matter in hand. Thaw's manner he described as exceedingly dictatorial.

Tiresome legal wrangling between Jerome and Littleton followed every question asked the witness.

The statement that Harry Thaw once appealed to District Attorney Jerome to have Stanford White brought to justice, was the sensational feature of Dr. Wagner's testimony. Thaw's appeal was turned down by the prosecutor, who believed it was actuated not by any high-minded motives, but by the young Pittsburg spendthrift's jealousy of White's success with Evelyn Nesbit and other girls of their mutual acquaintance. The fact was also developed and emphasized that almost from his first meeting with White and before any feud sprang up between them. Thaw cherished an overruling hatred and loathing for the man he later killed.

Justice Dowling announced so soon as court reconvened this afternoon that he had decided each side would be entitled to three instead of two experts.

Charge Against Shonts.

New York, Jan. 23.—That Theodore P. Shonts's family really brought a quanity of gowns and lingerie into the country duty free, on which they ought to have paid a customs tax, is understood to be collector Fowler's conclusion following last Monday's examination of the finery in the traction magnate's home. The collector has delayed his report to the treasury deparment because he did not want to rish mistakes, it is understood, in the case of so well known man as Shonts. The report will go to Washington today. It will tell how the search was conducted, what explanations were made by the Shonts, and how much the collector thinks Shonts still ought to pay in duties. The Shonts contention is that all the gowns and other garments had been worn more or less, and that the customs department is exceeding its powers in demanding a tax on "old clothes." The collector is understood to think nineteen trunks full of "old clothes" excessive, though it has not yet been made public on how large a proportion he would demand payment.

Chicago's Unemployed.

Chicago, Jan. 23.—Police Chief Shippy today ordered 300 mounted and foot police reserves held to execute his order prohibiting the parade of the unemployed. Up to last night the socialists in charge of the arrangements of the demonstration were defiant, but the inside information this morning before the meeting of the parade committee of the socialist party was that they had decided to postpone their procession. Chief Shippy had recognized that possibility, but he used the words that he would disperse the gatherfng "if it causes a repetition of the Haymarket riot." When the paraders meet at Jackson Park this afternoon he planned to read to them the riot act of Illinois, which commands them to disperse, and if it is not obeyed he declared he would order the reserves to charge.

Suffrage Demonstrations in Germany.

Berlin, Jan. 23.—Manhood suffrage demonstrations are speeding throughout Germany.

Rioting was effectually suppressed in Berlin last night, but in several other Russian towns there were six disorders. Other federal states are also taking up the cry. Several persons were wounded and numbers arrested at Brunswick late yesterday during a series of clashes between the police and about 5,000 socialis's who attempted, first a parade, and afterward a number of meetings at labor union halls throughout the city.

The disturbers showed a disposition to resist when the police tried to disperse them and greeted them at several meeting places with showers of stones and bottles, and injured a number of the officers.

Young Woman Murdered.

Chicago, Jan. 23.—Jealousy, if the police figure correctly, was the motive behind the murder of Catherine Cartwright, a girl of 22. The police are searching for James McGee, aged 23, who was arrested a week ago for shooting at the girl and J. F. Miller, because he caught them together on the street. Mary Winter, proprietor of the rooming house where the girl lived, heard three shots in her room early today, but was so frightened she did not investigate until the slayer had ample time to escape. The girl was dead when the room was entered.

The Hitchcock Trial.

New York, Jan. 23.—It was semi-officially announced in the District Attorney office today that the trial of Raymand Hitchcock, against whom are pending several indictments charging abuse of young girls, will follow the trial of Harry Kendall Thaw in the criminal branch of the Supreme Court. District Attorney Jerome said today that the evidence is prepared and he had promised President Lindsay of the Gerry Society that Hitchcock would be placed on trial immediately after the Thaw case is concluded.

Cured of Lung Trouble.

"It is now eleven years since I had a narrow escape from consumption," writes C. O. Floyd, a leading business man of Kershaw, S. C. "I had run down in weight to 135 pounds, and coughing was constant, both by day and by night. Finally I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and continued this for about six months, when my cough and lung trouble were entirely gone and I was restored my normal weight, 170 pounds." Thousands of persons are healed every year. Guaranteed at all drug stores. 50c and $1 00. Trial bottle free.

Executed Eighty-seven Persons.

Scranton, Pa., Jan. 23.—James Van Hisse of Newark, noted hangman, added another to his long list of executions today when he officiated at the hanging of Saverio Curcio, slayer of Nichols Ferrias. It was the eight-seventh execution for Van Hisse. Curico was still weak from an effort to end his life by mutilating himself a few weeks ago, but this morning rallied and gained strength before the time of the ordeal. Curico shot and killed Ferrias on Christmas Eve, 1905.

Renounces Foraker.

Marion, O., Jan. 23.—In an editorial, under the title of "Foraker is defeated, Ohio is for Taft," Former Lieutenant Governor Harding, Foraker's chief lieutenant and stanchest supporter, has cut away from the senior Ohio Senator. "This is not a band wagon climb; it is the calm recording of the trend of politics," is the way the former lieutenant-governor prefaces his political renunciation of Foraker. His leadership is necessarily done. Licked is the laconic way to put it, and in political honor his followers are prisoners of war and will have to be good. Senator Foraker is not entirely eliminated, because men of his stripe are never eliminated, but his political leadership is at an end. There will be no Foraker faction in the future." Harding closes his editorial with this statement: "While we admire Senator Foraker as a statesman, we are worse than skeptical about him as a politician."

Collision.

Rotterdam, Jan. 23.—Boats are scouring the Holland coast for a missing boat load of passengers, who disappeared when the Great Eastern Railway's steamship Amsterdam was beached following a collision with the British steamship Axminister in a fog off Nieuwe waterwedge Tuesday night. The Amsterdam's passenger list was lost, and it is consequently impossible to tell just how many are missing. The vessel is believed to have carried about 60 men, women and children besides the crew, and the lost boat is believed to have had about 20 aboard, of whom the majority were passengers and a few women. The Axminister was not badly damaged in the crash, but the Amsterdam suffered so severely that it put in at once towards Maassluis and was run ashore. The Axminister was bound from Rotterdam for New York.

Rescued from Fire.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Jan. 23.—Six girls and several firemen were overcome by flames and carried from the building of the International Cork Company which was totally destroyed by fire this afternoon after $250,000 loss. Six alarms of fire were turned in and in addition to the regular apparatus fire boats entered all about the creek and played streams on the big building. So far as known there was no loss of life.

Collapse of a Hotel.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Jan. 23.—Five men were buried today by the collapse of the Albemarle Hotel, opposite Dreamland Park at Coney Island. It is not known if any of the men are alive, but rescuers are exerting every effort to get to them.

The five men were dug out of the debris. Only one was so badly hurt, but he will recover.

INTOLERANCE RUN MAD.

[From The Richmond News Leader.]

Separation of church and State is a doctrine especially dear to a large portion of the people of Virginia. Yet we read in the Halifax Gazette, of this week, a letter indicating a remarkable condition of affairs. A correspondent of that newspaper, writing from Clover, under date of Jan. 15, 1908, says that the preacher whose church he attends recently announced in the pulpit that he would send a petition to have the Mann law amended, so as to force wet counties into local option elections, to each of his churches. He further said that he wanted to see these petitions before they were sent off so that he might know each member of his congregation on that question. "All of his members," he added, "would be required to show their colors."

Some time ago when The News Leader said that a certain branch of the hard-shell Baptists in remote mountain sections of the Carolinas had voted to expel all members who supported the no-fence law, members of that denomination challenged the assertion with evidences of indignation and repudiated it hotly. Yet, here is a preacher in the county of Halifax, conducting something very like the Inquisition the Catholic church conducted in Spain centuries ago. He gives the implied warning, or threat, that those members of the congregation who refuse to sign the petition for the amendment of the Mann bill will be brought under discipline. The inquisition used to decree burning, hanging and tortures for heretics, those who differed from its members in matters of belief or doctrine, or who failed to measure up to their requirements of morality and faith. Fortunately for the Halifax congregations, the law forbids the use of those drastic measures against such of the members as decline to favor the forcing of new elections on wet counties; but the clergyman goes as far as the law will let him in frightening and punishing. It seems to us the spirit of this man—no doubt a good and well-meaning man—is precisely that of the inquisition, some members of which doubtless were good and well-meaning men firmly persuaded that they were serving God by tearing the flesh of heretics to pieces with red-hot pincers or burning them alive.

It this is not interference by church in the affairs of State we would like to know what it is. If it is not following the same principle that guided the ignorant mountaineers in ex-communicating those who opposed a popular law on a political question, we would like to know why not. We do not know to what denomination this preacher belongs. The correspondent does not indicate. If his method is not intolerance, narrowness and bigotry carried to the greatest possible extreme, we would like to know what it is. The correspondent of the Gazette says he never has taken a drink of liquor, but he is classed as a whisky man because he votes on the prohibition question according to his own judgment and refuses to sign the petition presented to him by the church.

Of course, it is argued that prohibition is a moral and not a political question, but we can force ourselves to believe any political issue to be a moral one. People in the moonshine districts honestly believe that they have the moral right to do as they please with the products of their own labor, and to make their corn into whisky if they like. And, on that ground, they justify themselves in killing revenue officers who undertake to interfere with them. At one time opposition to free masonry was made a moral question, and all over New England the abolitionists taught that no man could be a Christian, a servant of God and a proper member of a Christian church if he opposed the immediate and violent abolition of slavery. Here in the South we call that fanaticism. What shall we call the implied declaration that the man who refuses to sign a petition for a prohibition election, however sober, however righteous in his life, however squarely he may live to the precepts of the testaments, shall be treated as an outcast and denied the communion of his church.

We see that at another point in the State where a town in a local election declined to accept prohibition, an effort is being made to have the question whether the town shall be wet or dry decided by a vote of the county. And we suppose if the county should vote wet, we would have a demand that the State have an election to decide. This seems to us to be as unfair as it is inconsistent. The prohibitionists, where they cannot carry a whole city, demand a vote on the liquor question in each ward for itself and put up the plea of the right of local self-government; but when a town votes wet they forget about local self-government and want the country around called in to try and decide the case.

Fanaticism and intolerance have defeated themselves through all the history of the world. The temperance people are permitting themselves to be led by extremists into courses which will bring a violent reaction and a general sweeping triumph of the whisky interests as surely as the recorded facts of history are true.

GYPSIES STILL HELD.

As was stated in the Gazette, Detective John J. S. Branch, of Suffolk, reached Alexandria yesterday and examined the children belonging to the band of gypsies, held at the station house in this city for the authorities at Council Bluffs, Iowa, in hope of finding a child kidnapped from Church Road, four miles east of Petersburg, about five years ago. None of them answered the description of the one he was seeking. Mr. Branch stated that a little girl was kidnapped by a band of gypsies, and that the mother of the child spent a small fortune in endeavoring to recover her daughter, and finally died of a broken heart.

Lucian Mareno yesterday said he desired to procure a license for the marriage of Marie Mitchell, alias Marie Mareno, to Stephen Mareno, his stepson. Commonwealth's Attorney Brent upon hearing of this request stated that it could not be granted at this time owing to the fact that parties are being held on a charge of abduction and grand larceny.

Only four of the gypsies are at police headquarters. Rose Mareno, and her four children are quartered in the Braddock House.

OBJECT LESSONS.

Among the cases before Justice Caton in the Police Court this morning was that of a young white woman who gave her name as Carrie Caton. She had been found yesterday by Officers Henderson and Gill on the corner of Cameron and Pitt streets in a helpless state of intoxication. It was necessary to convey the girl to the station house in a wagon. When brought to the bar she was recognized as a female who had been taken up several weeks ago for drunkenness. At that time she gave her name as McCormick, and stated that she was from Washington. Justice Caton ordered her to leave the city immediately.

A young man named Arthur Harrison was later placed in the dock. He was charged with lunacy. The accused virtually acknowledged that the charge against him was correct, and said his condition was the result of the use of intoxicating liquors. Harrison was committed for a future examination.

FUNERALS.

The funeral of the late Mr. Michael Garmann, who died Tuesday morning, took place this afternoon from the Immanuel Lutheran Church. Rev. J. J. May, pastor, conducted the services. The pallbearers were the same that served at the funeral of Mrs. Germann last Sunday—Messrs. Robert L. Wenzel, Louis Shuman, W. H. Hellmuth, Louis Folmar, Fred Didszoneit and Edward Gunner, the last named of Washington.

The funeral of the late Patrick Canvan took place this morning from St. Mary's Church. Alexandria Division of Ancient Order of Hibernians, of which the deceased was a member, attended the funeral in a body. The services were conducted by Rev. Father Kelley, and the pallbearers were Messrs. John McKenna, J. J. Hanratty, James J. Kelly, F. X. Denty, Stephen Macauley, M. Downey and James Roche.

TRASH ON STREETS.

There is an ordinance making the throwing of rubbish and trash (waste paper, &c.,) on streets a misdemeanor, yet on King street, the most used and best paved thoroughfare in Alexandria, waste paper and other trash is seen daily. The paper is picked up by the wind and sent sailing in front of the houses of people who obey the law by either burning such refuse or placing it in a receptacle. Complaint is made that that those employed in certain business houses keep portions of King street in an unsightly condition and it is suggested that the police, who are supposed to be acquainted with the law, should see that it is enforced.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING.

The annual meeting of stockholders of the Alexandria Home Fire Insurance Company was held last night, when the following officers and directors were elected: William H. May, president; C. B Swan, J. C Milburn, C. H. May, J. R. N. Curtis, E. S. Leadbeater, and E. C. Graham. The directors subsequently elected Mr. Harrie White secretary. Arrangements were made to finally close out the company's business to a New York fire insurance concern.

The executive committee of the Elks' indoor carnival held a meeting last night, at the Elks' Hall, when plans were formulated for the carnival to be held during the week beginning February 15. The ladies, who will have charge of the booths, were present at the meeting.

A young white man, a resident of this city, charged with committing a misdemeanor in Fairfax, was held for the authorities of that county.

STRANGE DISAPPEARANCE.

Miss Delilah Watkins, living on north Columbus street, is causing her mother and other relatives considerable anxiety from the fact that since last Monday they have been ignorant of her whereabouts. On that day Miss Watkins went to Washington with her mother. The latter left her daughter in that city, Mrs. Watkins supposing the young woman would return home on a later train. She failed to appear, however, and the police of this city and Washington have been requested to use their efforts in order to locate her, and were asked to give publicity to the fact that she had disappeared in the hope that her whereabouts may be ascertained. The several reports which have been in circulation since the young woman's disappearance are denied by her relatives and friends. Miss Watkins was until recently employed as a stenographer in Washington.

Day of the George Washington University. Mrs. C. E. Outcalt will render a solo. Afterward there will be a social half hour spent among the members of the local league.

FINED FIFTY DOLLARS.

Arthur Harrison, who was arrested yesterday by Lieutenant Smith and Officer Gill charged with assaulting Frank Ford with a knife, was brought before the Police Court this morning. Abraham Brown, of Winterton, N. Y., had a very remarkable experience; he says: "Doctors got badly mixed up over me; one said heart disease; two called it kidney trouble; the fourth, blood poison, and the fifth stomach and liver trouble; but none of them helped me; so my wife advised trying Electric Bitters, which are restoring me to perfect health. One bottle did me more good than all the five doctors prescribed." Guaranteed for blood poison, weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney complaints, by all druggists, fifty cents.

THURSDAY EVENING, JAN. 23, 1908.

Silent and Dramatic.

The most dramatic of silent men was Wallenstein, the antagonist of Sustavus Adolphus and the commander of the emperor's armies in the Thirty Years' war. He insisted that the deepest silence should reign about him. His officers took care that no loud conversation should disturb their general. They knew that a chamberlain had been hanged for waking him without orders and that an officer who would wear clanking spurs in the commander's presence had been secretly put to death. In the rooms of his palace the servants glided as if they were phantoms, and a dozen sentinels moved about his tent charged to secure the silence the general demanded. Chains were stretched across the streets in order to guard him against the disturbance of sounds. Wallenstein's taciturnity, which made him shun speech, and his love of silence, which caused him to be irritated at the slightest noise, were due to his constitutional temperament. He never smiled, he never asked advice from any one, and he could not endure to be gazed at, even when giving an order. The soldiers, when he crossed the camp, pretended not to see him, knowing that a curious look would bring them punishment.

English Sporting Parsons.

To the London Times a correspondent writes: "Once when a duke of Grafton was thrown into a ditch a young curate who had been closely competing with him for pride of place shouted, 'Lie still, your grace,' and cleared him and his hunter and the fence at a bound. So pleased was the duke with the performance that he declared he would give the young divine his first vacant living and not long afterward carried out the promise, vowing that if the curate had stopped to pull him out of the dike he would never have patronized him. 'Sporting parsons' are still to be found in almost every county today who can hold their own in the first flight when hounds run hard and some of the keenest fox hunters in all times have been supplied from the ranks of the clergy. Even the warning against their 'hawkynge, huntynge and dansynge' in the reign of King Henry VI. appears to have had very little effect."

Only One Sea Power.

In the audacity of puny triumphs nations are called sea powers, but there is only one sea power, and that is the sea itself. "Far famed our navies melt away." Within a hundred yards of the best charted shore stout ships are as bubbles. That sea that is as familiar when calm to little boats and ferries and tugs as are the thoroughfares of a city to its crowd of humanity takes on all the aspect of chaotic terror when winds and storms prevail. The waters so close as to reflect the friendly lights of the great metropolis are as alien to the forces of men as are the depths of the farthest ocean. Lord Byron's "Apostrophe" has lost none of its tremendous reality in all the progress from the little wooden sailers to our greatest merchantmen and ironclads. Nor can its truth be lessened in all the maturest development we can dream of.—Kansas City Times.

Origin of Precious Ores.

Men sometimes dream of enormous wealth stored deep in the earth, below the reach of miners; but, according to an eminent geologist, there is little or no ground to believe that valuable metallic deposits lie very deep in the earth's crust. Such deposits, according to this authority, are made by underground waters, and owing to the pressure on the rocks at great depths the waters are confined to a shell near the surface. With few exceptions ore deposits become too lean to repay working below 3,000 feet. Nine mines in ten, taking the world as a whole, are poorer in the second thousand feet than in the first thousand and poorer yet in the third thousand than in the second.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Problems In Fiction.

Reverence for decorum and even for social prejudices did not hamper the real masters of the English novel. It did not stifle in the cradle "Vanity Fair" or "Wuthering Heights" or "Diana of the Crossways" or "Adam Bede." There are problems enough in all these works, but they are handled by men and women of genius, who treat both their subjects and their readers with respect.—London Standard.

How They Love Each Other.

"Yes," said Miss Passay, "he's an awfully inquisitive bore. He was trying to find out my age the other day, so I just up and told him I was fifty. That settled him."

"Well," replied Miss Pepprey, "I guess it is best to be perfectly frank with a fellow like that."—Philadelphia Press.

LESSONS LEARNED BY CITIES.

Mismanagement and Financial Troubles Constantly Coming to Light.

New Hampton, Ia., is learning the meaning of depreciation. It recently found it necessary to discard the electric equipment that had been in use but four years and put in an entirely new equipment. For several months it has been trying to sell the old equipment, which cost $15,000, but has not yet found a purchaser. Its scrap value is of course very small.

Fitzgerald, Ga., has apparently learned in part at least the lessons that "trust" and "bust" are practically synonymous and that in the long run it doesn't pay to sell below cost. At least that is the natural deduction from the following item in the Journal of that city:

"Beginning with this month, consumers will only have until the 10th of the month to make their settlement with the city. Water and light will both be cut off on the 11th of each month from this on. Then in the future meters for both water and light will either be sold or rented to consumer. The city will no longer furnish them free of charge. The meters will either be sold at their actual cost or will be rented to the consumer at 25 cents each month. A charge from now on for light connection of $2 will be made, and this fee must accompany the application for a connection."

Falls City, Neb., is learning that it is easier to vote bonds than to sell them, for the mayor writes that no purchaser has yet been found for the 5 per cent bonds voted on July 16 to improve the light and water plant. This is a lesson that other and larger cities are learning to their sorrow, though it should not be a matter of surprise where "improvements" involve the practical wiping out of the present equipment, which has not been paid for.

Hamilton, Ont., is one of many cities that are learning that manufacturers are curiously prone to serve their good customers first. It is disappointed because of the delay in the delivery of the new equipment for its electric light plant. All manufacturers know and allow for the fact that city warrants are apt to cash themselves slowly and that acceptance of supplies or machinery often depends upon crossing the right palm with gold. A manufacturer's agent told the writer two stories to illustrate this.

In one case after trying for two years to collect a bill he was finally paid in city warrants. Even then he could cash them only by selling them to the local political boss at a discount that more than absorbed the profits.

In this other case his firm installed some expensive machinery in a city plant. No sooner had the firm's workmen left than the report came that the machine was not working properly. An expert was sent on to adjust it. After this had been repeated several times a man approached the expert with the remark: "You've a good machinist, but a poor politician. You'll never get an acceptance until you've paid the superintendent $100 and the chief engineer $50." And he was right.

LARGE LEAK IN SPIRIT LAKE.

Light and Heat Plant Shows Material Loss on Eight Months' Operation.

About fifty citizens attended a meeting recently held in Spirit Lake, Ia., to listen to official statements relative to the financial condition of the light and heating plant, with a view to getting the sentiment of the taxpayers on the suggestion to sell the plant. The advisability of issuing bonds to improve the water system was also considered.

Clerk Osborne made a report of the receipts and disbursements at the power house for the past eight months. A material loss in operating the plant was shown, which it is evident cannot be avoided under municipal ownership and present operating conditions.

A motion that the council be required to submit at a special election a proposition to sell the light and heating plant, provided that no bid less than the present indebtedness of the plant be considered, carried by a four-fifths vote.

The editor of the Beacon states that the plant "has always been operated at a heavy loss."
